

3 November 2021

Dear Colleagues, Supporters and Friends:

On behalf of Doug Comer, President of US/ICOMOS, Zoe Leung, Chair of the US/ICOMOS International Exchange Program (IEP) Committee, I am pleased to share with you this call for applications for Hosts and Sponsors for the 2022 US/ICOMOS International Exchange Program. The deadline for IEP Host Applications is 21 January 2022.

Since 1984, the US/ICOMOS IEP has engaged partners across the world in hands-on training of emerging cultural heritage professionals. To date, more than 700 interns and 70 nationalities have participated. The program shares the best cultural heritage preservation practices from the United States and around the world with young and emerging professionals from the US and overseas. The IEP also reinforces the importance of the personal and communal benefits of international cultural engagement.

The IEP strengthens skills and establishes lifelong professional and personal contacts. These connections are the basis of so many positive relationships that improve the quality of the international heritage profession, and the lives of practitioners across the globe. In a time when some nations look to build walls, the IEP builds bridges. I know of the importance and impact of the program firsthand. I recently completed two IEP internships, one for the American Center of Research, Jordan, and the other for the ICOMOS Sustainable Development Goals Working Group. These experiences were invaluable in helping me build my career, learn new subjects and skills, and make connections within the heritage community that will remain important as my career progresses.

More information on the 2022 IEP is attached, including a link to the online application form. I hope that you will support the program this year, either through a host placement, a sponsor donation, or both. I am happy to answer any questions you may have about the IEP. Please contact me at IEP@usicomos.org, either with your questions, or to set a time to talk.

Sincerely,

HOST A US/ICOMOS INTERNATIONAL INTERN! 2022 US/ICOMOS INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE PROGRAM IN CULTURAL HERITAGE PRESERVATION

The US/ICOMOS International Exchange Program (IEP) in Cultural Heritage Preservation provides advanced training and hands-on experience for preservation professionals early in their careers. Sponsorship of an intern enables an organization to establish international connections and help train future professionals through preservation work experience at a modest cost to the host organization. Exchanges also build rewarding social, political, and personal relationships.

US/ICOMOS IEP participants are usually in their last year of a relevant graduate education program or have been working for 1-3 years in a professional capacity. Successful applicants are those who demonstrate an interest in gaining international preservation work experience, NOT simply those who need an internship for a program requirement. The IEP is very competitive; typically, fewer than 1 in 15 applicants are selected for an internship.

EXPECTATIONS

HOST ORGANIZATIONS IN THE US are expected to contribute funding to US/ICOMOS to support the intern costs, with the amount based on such factors as cost-of-living in the host city, provision of free or reduced-cost housing, etc.

HOST ORGANIZATIONS OVERSEAS are expected to provide financial or logistical assistance, such as free or low-cost room and board. In some cases, US/ICOMOS may be able to obtain grant support to provide supplemental funds for overseas internships.

FOR ALL HOSTS: It is highly unlikely that US/ICOMOS will be able to support placements with Host Organizations that do not contribute financial or in-kind support for an intern. For 2019 (the last year the program was held fully in-person), placements averaged about $7700 per person. US/ICOMOS works to defray these costs through grants and donations, but cannot promise to do so.

ALL HOST ORGANIZATIONS are expected to cover all work-related costs for the interns, including transportation to and from project sites if required for the internship, and assistance in finding housing, if not provided.

US/ICOMOS handles all recruiting for, and review of, the applicants; provides assistance to the intern in obtaining a J-1 Visa (if required) and conducts and funds an orientation and final program for all interns in Washington, DC. US/ICOMOS also handles the distribution of all stipend payments and provides supplemental travel insurance for interns. (The amount of the stipend varies, depending on the cost-of-living in different locations, availability of free or reduced-cost housing, and amount of grant support and other monetary contributions received for the exchange program.) Travel costs to and from Washington, DC and the Host location are borne by the IEP Intern unless otherwise subsidized by the IEP Host and / or US/ICOMOS.

ALL HOST ORGANIZATIONS are required to review applicants suggested to them by US/ICOMOS for placement. If a Host Organization agrees to accept a certain applicant, they will do so in writing.

ALL PARTIES TO THE IEP (US/ICOMOS, Interns, and Host Organizations) are required to sign a tripartite agreement that outlines roles and responsibilities for the placement. (A copy of this agreement is included in the online IEP Host application form – see below.)
